Dear Parent/Carer

We are really excited to tell you that author Steve Hartley will be visiting our school on Thursday 16th January 2014. Steve will be talking about his latest books, his love of books and about his career as a writer. He will be doing some creative writing workshops with the children and he is a very entertaining speaker so it will be a fantastic experience for us all.

At the end of the day the children will be able to have their copy of Steve's book(s) signed by the author himself.

To ensure that no-one is disappointed we strongly advise that books are pre-ordered before the visit, all at the special event prices below.

Please complete the form below and return it in an envelope with the correct money clearly stating your child's name and class.

All orders should be returned to school by Monday 13th January.

There will be a limited number of some of his previous books available to buy on the day as well. They are also priced at £5.
